

Opportunity for Youth

Media Arts Maker/Intern

Details:

Emergence is an exciting new media arts project that will explore rising sea levels in our communities—and human adaptation to this climate crisis—through the voices and visions of youth, Indigenous knowledge carriers, and artists working with the Art Farm. We will reflect upon the nature of our relationships with this place we call home -- and how listening to the land/water and Indigenous stories and language of the land/water can help us to all be amazing caretakers of our home!

Are you a budding media artist—with a love for the ocean and forests you're surrounded by—interested in sound, film and new platforms such as 360 video and immersive technology? Then this might be just the right opportunity for you.

Who can apply:

We are recruiting a team of four to six youth (ages 15 to 25), who are living on the Sunshine Coast.

What exactly will I be doing?

- Training in media arts and collaborative arts creation
- Apprenticing with a professional media artist in the use of HD and 360 cameras
- Collaborating with artists to create an interactive media arts “show” that explores the theme of rising sea levels and adaptation
- Helping to develop a travelling dome that can host audiences and showcase the projected media

What will I get out of it?

- Skill training in new media and visual arts
- Mentorship with established artists, and
- A $1500 honorarium upon completion of all components of the project!

What is the commitment?

- 4 days of training and filming during the summer of 2018
- 8 after-school and 2 Saturday workshops in the fall of 2018
- 2 Saturday presentations (one in Gibsons and one in Sechelt)
- Optional attendance at the VR/AR Global Summit in Vancouver on September 21st and 22nd 2018.

What Qualifications do I need?

- Experience or a strong interest in Media Arts
- Ability to collaborate and work as part of a team
- Strong organizational skills
- Computer skills (ideal to have knowledge of film or music editing software)
